ALUMNI ASSOCIATION ELECTION

At the close of the Homecoming Week in May, the alumni present gathered for their annual meeting at the dessert supper given by the college in their honor. The votes which had been sent in were counted, and those present who had not voted were permitted to express their choice of officers for the ensuing term of one year. The following were elected:

President: Ted N. Graves, '54
Vice-president: R. C. Mizelle, '50
Treasurer: Bruce Ringer, '52
Secretary: Mabel Wood

Assistant Secretary:
Frances Andrews, '50

Members at large:
John Goodbrad, '38
H. B. Lundquist

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED! The secretary, Mabel Wood, has requested that in view of the fact that it is the plan of your Alma Mater to supply every alumnus and alumna with the SMC ALUMNI BULLETIN free, that you keep in touch with her when you change your occupation, or address, or both. Do the same for any other alumni you may know of. Thus the association may be able to function smoothly, as one big, happy family.

A Challenge . . .

T. W. WALTERS, SMC President

A YOUNG minister had just settled in his first pastorate in Philadelphia, when he was visited one evening by one of the laymen of the church. The man said to him: "You do not seem to be a strong preacher. In the usual order of things you will fail here, but a little group of us have agreed to gather every Sunday morning to pray for you."

The young man saw that group of people grow to be more than one thousand persons, all praying weekly for their pastor. He was J. Wilbur Chapman, who grew to become one of the greatest preachers America has ever known.

This story illustrates the situation in the experience of most people—we succeed to a large extent through the prayers, cooperation, and support of others. There is no adequate substitute. And while this is true in the lives of individuals, it is even more necessary in the life and growth of an institution.

Southern Missionary College has become what it is through your prayers and your deeds. It cannot live without the support of those it seeks to serve. Just as comparatively weak people succeed when they are supported by the strength of many hands, so may your college endure and increase through the loyalty of its sons and daughters. We urge you to pray for us, boost SMC and perhaps remember her regularly with a sacrificial gift. The needs of a private college are tremendous and the existence of all such schools is threatened in today's society.

A dedicated faculty is making an immeasurable contribution. A former Tennessee state commissioner of education who visited our campus was amazed at the quality of the well trained staff and expressed himself to this effect: "The highest ratio of highly trained teachers in any college or university in Tennessee is found on the campus of Southern Missionary College." He noted that such a situation could be explained only because of personal dedication to the job.

Dedication is rewarding and you may wish to dedicate a sum each month to the welfare of your alma mater. Many youth need a little boost. The Alumni Student Aid Fund is going well in some local chapters. If you do not belong to a chapter of the alumni association you may wish to send a contribution to the executive secretary of the organization, Elder H. B. Lundquist, Southern Missionary College, Collegedale, Tennessee.

Not only do many hands make light work but also they immeasurably strengthen. Talk, pray, and give for SMC—the college for Southern Youth.

HOMECOMING

R. C. MIZELLE, Association President

A H, THE thoughts that come to us as we weigh that word, what nostalgic memories flood the meadow of our minds—Homecoming—coming home—back to Southern Missionary College, our educational mother!

Won't it be wonderful, sitting in the Tabernacle-Auditorium again, listening to Elder K. A. Wright, the man who guided many of us and our college through so many years, trying years, as we sought accreditation? Can we ever forget the "down-to-earth" ways of his ministry?—NEVER! Remember how he said "Think it through" so many times, as he sought to have each of us become aware of our responsibilities to God, to each other, to our School and to our parents.

Remember that first graduating class as a senior college? We'll have an opportunity to hear another message of challenge from Joe Crews, '46, who has returned from Asia and is now ministering in Texas.

Then, too, we'll hear once again the melodious renditions of our College Choir, the inspiring music of the College Band, and observe the agility of our acrobats on mat, trampoline, and bar. Along with this we'll have ample opportunity to renew old acquaintances, talk over the "old-times," and become inspired all over again to live another year for the Master.

Are you coming? Surely, you are—and we're so glad!

HONOR CLASSES

1932 and 1947

All graduates, former students, faculty and board members are cordially invited.

All who plan to attend should notify the Executive Secretary, H. B. Lundquist, P. O. Box 31, Collegedale, the number of your group, whether or not you wish us to provide lodging, and also whether you will want to eat (at cost) in the College dining room. This should be done immediately to avoid confusion. Even though you are making your own arrangements, advise us just the same.

News from the Chapter

* "The executive officers of the California chapter met the first of November and decided that, since we had so recently had a Southern Union reunion, that next occasion for our "get together" possibly should not be until spring and, at that time, we would plan to have a banquet at either La Sierra dining hall or at the White Memorial CME dining hall. Later in this year, 1958, we will have another "get together" and at that time we plan an outing in the country somewhere. So, two reunions a year, we feel, would serve our needs for fellowship.

"Our officers also discussed the project of the Collegedale (SMC) alumni, and felt that at our next meeting we would discuss a plan for contributing to the Alumni Student Aid Fund.

"The date for the spring banquet is April 13."

—Dale Fisher, '51, President

* It affords us great pleasure to announce the formation of another chapter of the SMC Alumni Association at Mount Pisgah Academy as the Western Carolina Chapter. The officers are as follows: Louis C. Waller, '39, president; LaSina Harrison Rilea, '55, secretary-treasurer; Ferdie Wuttke, '55, Vice-president; Lewis Wynn, '53, secretary of public relations. The next meeting will be held in March.

* A meeting of the Charlotte chapter of the Association was held on the evening of February 22 at Charlotte. Frank McMillian, '55, was named president to fill out the unexpired term of James Joiner, '53, who moved to Nashville, Tennessee, and W. D. Welch, '52, was elected to fill out Mr. McMillian's unexpired term. Another meeting is scheduled for May, at which time the constitutional amendment respecting membership as well as a project will be dealt with.

* The executive secretary, H. B. Lundquist, will organize a chapter for the Nashville area on the evening of March 8. It was found not to be feasible for the Highland and Nashville areas to function as a unit, and for this reason another chapter became a necessity.

* Also another meeting of the Highland chapter will be held and officers for the ensuing term elected. This meeting will be held on Monday night, the 10th of March.

* During this visit to the Kentucky-Tennessee conference, Executive Secretary Lundquist will hold a meeting of the Louisville chapter on the evening of March 11. Election of officers for the next year will be held at that time.

* The executive secretary will also hold a meeting with the following chapters during the remainder of March: Miami, Tampa-St. Petersburg, and Orlando. Also at a date in the near future a meeting for the Atlanta chapter will be held.

* If your chapter is inactive, why not seize this opportunity to reactivate it? A visit from the Association is possible, provided enough time is given us to arrange the matter in our itinerary.

Since November

The College has recently acquired a panel truck, a pick-up, and a dump truck, as well as a flat bed to go with the College tractor through the Educational Office for Surplus Property. Also two all stainless steel steam tables for the new Home Economics unit were secured at $75 each, although the list price was five or six hundred dollars each.

* Buildings and Grounds supplies on an average 3,100 hours of work per month to forty-nine college and academy students, or an income of around $3500 per month.

* Just as soon as construction demands, the traffic on College Drive will be cut off in front of both the Science Buildings and the Administration Building. Thereafter entrance to buildings as far as the latter building will then be had from the north, while access to the Tabernacle, Talge Hall, and Academy Building, and the Science Hall will be had from the south.

* A new, rear-access, road is being rapidly pushed through back of the present main buildings located on College Drive. It is an extension of the present road which enters the campus from the north and runs before industrial row. It will continue south behind the Academy building, and connect with the road known as Morningside Drive, which runs from west to east, eventually connecting with the county road in front of the elementary school building. Access to the buildings on College Drive will be had from this road eventually.

* Collegedale Clinic reports an increase of patronage of well over 200% as compared with a year ago, and has been longer under the same administration, that of Dr. Keith Anderson, than under any previous one. This little institution in addition to a micro-therapy machine, a fine X-ray, is soon to add ultra-sound equipment. It is also planning to expand its laboratory facilities, and employ a full-time technician. Furthermore, since it reopened fourteen months or more ago, none of its staff has lost a single day due to illness.

* In the Ingathering drive conducted last fall, 44 members of the faculty and staff, 187 students of the College, and 42 of the Academy, or a total of 273 persons participated, and the receipts for the day were $3,603.87, or an average per person of $13.20. This does not include the solicitation of business nor of industry.

* Doctor Lynn H. Wood, the president of Southern Junior College, on two different occasions in the early days, and who helped select the site for the institution which has served two generations of southern youth, was guest of the College recently. He spoke to Old Testament Prophets class as well as to the entire student body in chapel. His talks were a great inspiration.

* President Thomas W. Walters reported a helpful meeting of the Association of American Colleges and Universities held in Miami the second week of January. He felt that our own SMC was doing well in keeping abreast of the general cultural progress being made by America's unparalleled educational system.

* Doctor L. N. Holm and Miss Mazie Herin, general manager, and chairman of the nursing division, both respectively, attended a group meeting held at the Glendale Sanitarium to study a plan for nursing education.

* A new electric power station is being installed on the campus by the Power Company. This will increase our voltage from 2,300 to 4,000, and provide for a demand of 1,000 Kw. instead of 400 as at present. The College has been handicapped for lack of power, and this will provide adequate power for many years, even though facilities are added.

* The sprinkler system at the Administration building more than paid for itself during January when a short circuit caused a fire in the attic which, because of its remoteness, threatened the destruction of the building, and doubtless would have but for the efficient working of the system. About $1,000 worth of damage by water was done.

* A new Miehle cylinder press has been installed at the College Press and was received from the Review and Herald Publishing House.

* The Biology Department recently received the gift of $1,000 for the construction of a food trailer and, possibly, a specimen trailer, to be used on a field trip by the department this summer through the states of North and South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida. This trip will be open to the elementary teachers, and comes as a result of the interest awakened by the new book on nature study.

* On January 10 the Nursing Division held its first capping exercise on campus. Visiting faculty from the Orlando campus included Glenda Rolfe, Stella Stone, Ruby Shreve, Doris Clapp, Christine Kummer, and Miriam Kerr. The program was under the direction of Miss Mazie Herin. The speaker for the occasion was Doctor T. W. Walters. Four men and twelve women composed the class.

* At the two monthly meetings of the Division of Religion Research Fellowship held during January and February, two papers were presented. At the first meeting one by Gordon Hyde entitled "Historical Background of Adventist Interpretation of Prophecy" was presented, and at the other, one by Dr. Otto Christensen, entitled "Modernism and Humanism of the First Century in the Form of Gnosticism."

* Members of the Home Economics class as well as the girls of Maude Jones Hall each held Christmas parties for the underprivileged children of the neighborhood. Clothing and needed foods as well as candy and toys were given the children. Some of the little children are also being taken by their "big sisters" to Sabbath School.

* The College Board, in recognition of her long and efficient work, in mid January, conferred on Mary Dietel the title of Professor Emeritus of Modern Languages, and for equal reasons, on Hira T. Curtis, that of Professor Emeritus of Business Administration.

* A terminal leave of a year was granted Edna Stoneburner, who for the past seven years has been dean of the women's residence hall.

* After many years of active and efficient service, Esther Williams at the close of this school year will retire from her work as director of food service.

* The College for the first semester showed a net gain in enrollment of twelve over 1955-56, and a net gain in attendance at the beginning of the second semester of 60 over the same time in 1955-56. The present attendance is roughly 440.

* Dr. R. A. Hammill was a visitor on campus February 18 and 19 under the auspices of the Division of Religion. His talks as usual were greatly appreciated.

* The Week of Literature Evangelism was held on campus from February 21-26. The publishing secretaries of the white conferences of the Union as well as Elder Ristau and Crofton of the Union and Jackson of the Review and Herald attended.

* Every week since its introduction about ten weeks ago has found new customers for the products of the creamery. This route has grown from no deliveries in the second week of November to 81½ gallons on January 10. Beginning January 20, the retail route has also carried ice cream.

* Through the efforts of our purchasing agent, John Goodbrad, a $1,000 Gilbarco hydraulic lift has been donated and installed by the Esso Oil Company for the new shop addition being constructed for the Industrial Arts Division.

* Thanks to the farsightedness of the finance committee, a new Musser band marimba has been added to the equipment of the music department. In addition, Mr. Hill has enlarged the record library by the securing of many records of fine literature, both classical and modern. The Department now has access to three organs, one of them a fine Baldwin in the chapel, and a Conn, on a rental basis, in the Fine Arts chapel.

* The Academy enrollment is: Freshmen, 33; Sophomores, 24; Juniors, 35; Seniors, 118.

* The McKeel Baking Company, formerly King's Bakery, is completing its transfer from Chattanooga to the new home constructed for it on the college campus. Sixteen students are at present employed, and with the addition of another shift, sixteen more will be employed. Besides these thirty-two students, with a monthly income of around $3,500, five wives of students are employed full time, as well as eleven parents of students, with an additional monthly income of $4,300. This firm is doing a yearly business of over a million dollars a year.

* Collegedale Cabinets, Inc., is currently employing twelve students, and providing them thereby with $1,000 a month toward their school expenses. This firm under the direction of Charles Fleming, Jr., is now grossing $25,000 a month, five times what it was at its beginning.

The Finest Philanthropy

PRESIDENT T. W. WALTERS

CAN money buy happiness? No, of course not, but an American humorist replied to the question that if he had the money he would have a lot of fun shopping for it.

The truth is you don't have to be poor to be happy, rather it is what one does with his money that determines his happiness.

A somewhat well-to-do man has said that he looks on wealth as a kind of trust, a personal test to find out whether he has what it takes to discharge the obligations of wealth worthily. Most of his wealth has gone to colleges, and he is satisfied that he has met the challenge.

These magnificent gifts of great philanthropists have meant much to the nation's colleges. But even more important have been the gifts of countless "little" philanthropists who have shared their modest incomes with their alma mater. With their benefactions they are bringing happiness—for others as well as themselves—and the shopping has been great fun, too! Several young people who are conscientious in meeting their responsibilities will soon be faced with the possibility of leaving SMC unless they receive a small monthly allotment from our worthy student fund. The fund needs replenishing, and many alumni are rising to the occasion. No gift is too small to count, for there is strength in numbers, and there are hundreds of us.

Your college continues to give the best in work opportunities, and in order to be considered for special aid, a student will be carefully checked to make certain that he is helping himself to a maximum amount. Won't you please start the habit of making an annual, semi-annual, or monthly gift to the SMC worthy student fund? There is a strong trend in American higher education to supply scholarships for youth with promise. Should not we who have enjoyed a Christian college training be foremost in helping others who now struggle against very formidable odds?

You may wish to channel your contributions through your local SMC alumni chapter or send it in care of the College President, or send it payable to Southern Missionary College. Invest in a certain return of happiness by investing in the finest youth in all the world, your youth at SMC.

Greeting from the New President

R. C. MIZELLE

HOW much does the success of the Association and local chapters depend upon you, the individual alumnus? I am sure you will agree that these organizations can be successful only so long as they have your active interest and support. Sometimes we wonder just how much we, as individuals, can do to insure the success of any organization with which we may be associated. May I give you just a little hint, in the form of two suggestions? (1) Be regular in attending meetings called by your chapter officials. (2) Insist that your chapter select a project which can claim the energies of every member.

I am convinced that it is just as true of our chapters and the Association today, as it was in Solomon's time when he said, "Where there is no vision the people perish." May I paraphrase his words in this way—'Where there is no project, the chapter perishes.' Choosing a project should be one of the first actions by the chapter membership. As we watch the educational costs rise, we find the competition between private and state schools more keen. We believe that our alma mater has a task to do—to send from its doors laborers for the Lord's vineyard—and it must accomplish that task. To do so, it must have your help.

Send us your students; encourage and support them as they attend Southern Missionary College.

I hope you will also support a suggestion by the executive committee of the Association, . . . "that each chapter be urged to accept the worthy-student fund as a special project." There is a very special need for this fund. Last year several promising students were retained with assistance from a very small fund, and we ask for your interest and support for this project. Prior to our announcement of this decision to ask the chapters to accept this as a special project, two chapters voted to do just that. Will you be next? May God impress you with this very great need.

Individually we can do but little; collectively we can do MUCH. Just think what 500 alumni, contributing only $1.00 per month toward such a fund, could do—$6,000 per year: Full yearly educational cost for six students; or one-half full yearly cost for twelve students; or one-half the yearly tuition for thirty students; or one-fourth the yearly tuition for sixty students. Look at what we could do!! We sincerely believe that the student must learn to depend upon himself first of all, but after that, let's help him a little. We are counting on YOU.
